Record Air Blows

Allied 'Victory Drive' Is Declared Imminent

Allied air forces were being thrown into the attack on a scale not exceeded even in the Normandy bombardment that preceded the invasion of France last summer.

HUGE AIR FLEETS

Well over 2,000 heavy bombers spearheaded the assault, dumping a great weight of explosives on a chain of German military camps, airfields and communications centres in the Ruhr and along the east bank of the Rhine farther south.

Simultaneously, the Allied tactical air forces normally about 4,000 planes—struck all along the front from the Swiss border to the North Sea, bombing and strafing German troop concentrations, gun positions and road lines in the path of the poised Allied armies.

Lt.-Gen. George S. Patton's rambling Third Army ran into a Stalingrad-like defence at Ludwigshafen but swept into the town in bitter fighting and captured the I. G. Farben works, the largest chemical plant in Germany.

DRIVE ON RUHR

Lt.-Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' U.S. First Army already was on the move northward from its salient east of the Rhine. It battered with tanks and infantry against the narrow Siegfried line barely 10 miles from the southern flank of the Ruhr.

Simultaneously, the American Third and Seventh armies to the south clinched their decisive victory with the destruction of all but a handful of an estimated 80,000 Germans in the Saar-Palatinate.

The two armies merged into a solid front west of the Rhine and closed against the river with a rush that threatened to eliminate the few thousand surviving Germans before the week's end.

Lt.-Gen. Alexander M. Patch's U.S. Seventh Army troops, meanwhile, burst out from the centre of the Siegfried line from the south and wheeled eastward to join in the drive for the Rhine between Ludwigshafen and Karlsruhe.

BATTLE NEAR END

The battle of the Saar-Palatinate was all but ended after seven days of swift and overwhelming advance, except for two bitter-end struggles raging in the streets of Mainz on the Rhine and in a narrow stretch of the Siegfried line west of Karlsruhe.

With their southern flank cleared by Patton's breakthrough, Lt.-Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First Army troops east of the Rhine charged northward in a power drive that threatened momentarily to spill across the narrow Siegfried line to the southern flank of the Ruhr—German's last great industrial arsenal.

Front reports said armored and infantry divisions were battling for a crossing of the Siegfried line on a winding 10-mile front stretching eastward from the river's confluence with the Rhine to the factory town of Siegburg.

GREAT AIR BLOWS

The attack opened late yesterday in the wake of a tremendous Allied aerial bombardment that spread fire and ruin across a vast chain of German road and railway communications linking the imperilled Ruhr with Central Germany.

One formation of RAF raiders blew up a huge German underground gasoline and ammunition dump near Deventer in Holland. It was said to be the enemy's biggest supply depot on the front facing the British Second and Canadian First armies.

American bombers were back on the attack over western and northern Germany again this morning.

The blazing air blow, involving upwards of 6,200 Allied warplanes, electrified the entire Allied battle line drawn up against the Rhine from the Swiss border to the North Sea. Observers speculated freely that the final round of the war war on. Berlin said all German troops had been alerted against an airborne assault on the Rhine in conjunction with a general offensive by the Canadian First, British Second, American Ninth and 15th armies.

INFANTRY IN VAN

Infantry led the assault on the Sieg River, charging northward from the east bank suburbs of Bonn against weakening enemy resistance. They seized seven towns and villages in a three-mile advance to the river and threw weak German rear guards back across the stream.

Field dispatches said the Nazis apparently were hoping to stave off the First Army rush behind the Siegfried line, but the narrow river was not expected to prove a formidable obstacle.

Armored forces picked up the attack during the night. They reached almost three miles along the six-lane Nazi military highway linking the southern Rhineland to the Ruhr and Berlin, and reached the Sieg directly opposite Siegburg, Bulsdorf, one mile southeast of Siegburg, was entered before dawn.

NEARING HIGHWAY

Other First Army troops wheeled two miles east of the highway toward Hennef, three miles south-east of Siegburg, ramming to within 1 1/2 miles of the Cologne-Limburg highway.

Field gobs massed behind the Sieg poured a barrage across the river into the German lines in support of the ground attack.

The bridgehead now measured about 26 miles in width along the Rhine bank and about eight miles inland from the river. British United Press war correspondent John McDermott reported that the collapse of the Ludendorff bridge at Remagen already had been compensated for by the construction of "several" emergency bridges, one capable of carrying up to 42 tons.

HOLD LUDWIGSHAFEN

In the Saar-Palatinate, meanwhile, the American Third and Seventh armies were racing in to seal their victory with the complete destruction of the 80,000 or more Germans who held the huge triangular pocket at the start of the drive a week ago.

Ludwigshafen, Germany's greatest chemical producing centre and her fourth inland port, was safely in American hands before nightfall yesterday, although scattered resistance was still continuing early today.

Units of an armored division rammed into the city yesterday afternoon and raced quickly to the river front in a futile attempt to capture the double-track railway and highway bridge into Mannheim. The bridge already had been destroyed by Nazi demolition crews before the Americans arrived.

Burial will be in the family plot at Edmonton cemetery.

Withdrawal of Contentious Bill Given Approval

Mr. Beaudry's motion then was put to the vote. It was carried, following which the committee adjourned. The sitting lasted less than 10 minutes.

Petitioners for the bill, which was sponsored in the Legislature two weeks ago by Mr. Beaudry, were Dr. L. O. Beauchemin, Calgary; His Honor Chief Justice Luelen Dubuc; Dr. Louis Philippe Mousseau, Edmonton; Dr. Charles Levesque, Paul Emile Poirier, K.C., Edmonton; Charles Edouard Gariepy, K.C., Edmonton; J. Fillion; G. Dandurand, E. Simon, L. Bruno Turcotte, and R. W. Sicotte.

Following the committee sitting, Mr. Maynard released a letter to Mr. Beaudry from Mr. Poirier, requesting that the bill be withdrawn.

TEXT OF LETTER

Text of the letter follows: "J. W. Beaudry, K.C., Parliament Buildings, Edmonton.

Dear Sir: I have been requested by Dr. Beauchemin and the other sponsors of Bill No. 4, an Act to incorporate l'Association Canadienne Française de l'Alberta, to ask that the said bill be withdrawn.

POLITICAL FOOTBALL

"The attitude of the press and the inflammatory tenor of some of the editorials indicates that there is a danger of this bill becoming a political football on the eve of an election. The French-Canadian Association of Alberta is and has always been non-political. The association proposes to carry on with its activities in broad daylight as it has always done during the past 20 years. It is also the hope of the association that it may contribute with all other fair-minded Canadians to the promotion of a better understanding among Canadians of different racial origins in the province." (Signed, Paul E. Poirier.)

When the Legislature met Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Maynard moved that house rules be suspended in order to withdraw the French-Canadian bill. Objection by opposition members resulted in the motion being lost, whereupon the bill was placed before the private bills committee. Unanimous agreement is necessary before any house rule can be suspended.

Thursday morning J. Percy Page (Ind.-Edmonton), leader of the opposition, explained why his party members had voted against suspension of rules Wednesday.

Mr. Page said, "When this bill came up for second reading, Premier Manning suggested that, instead of debating it at that time, it should be permitted to go to the committee of the whole house. Each member of the opposition agreed to that suggestion."

WOULD LACK CRITICISM

"If we had agreed to the request of Attorney-General Maynard Wednesday that the rules of the house be suspended in order that the bill might be withdrawn, we would automatically have been deprived of any opportunity of raising our objections to the bill."

"Each member of our party was strongly opposed to the bill and was most anxious to have the privilege of saying so."

Objects of the French-Canadian association, listed in the bill for incorporation, were as follows:

EARLY MEMORIES

(a) to rescue from oblivion the memories of the early inhabitants, missionaries, fur traders, explorers and settlers in Alberta of French origin;

(b) to promote the intellectual, moral, social and material welfare of the Canadians of French origin in Alberta;

(c) to promote the study of the French language and the formation of adult education groups;

RADIO PROGRAMS

(d) to sponsor radio programs in French, to apply for a permit to operate and to operate a radio broadcasting station in Alberta;

(e) to promote goodwill, harmony and co-operation among its members;

(f) to promote better understanding among Canadians of different racial origin in the province.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL MOVES SUSPEND HOUSE RULES

Shortly after the Legislature convened Wednesday afternoon, Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., attorney-general, moved that house rules be suspended in order to withdraw the bill.

Before putting the motion to the house, Mr. Speaker Peter Dawson pointed out unanimous consent would be necessary before suspension could be granted.

In the voice vote following, several opposition members cried "No!" and the motion to suspend rules was declared lost.

Under legislative procedure, the bill will go before the private bills committee, then before the committee of the whole house, before it is ready for third reading.

Several members of the house have voiced their intention to "kill" the bill completely, rather than permit its withdrawal in a committee stage.

OTTAWA, March 22.—(CP)—Labor Minister Mitchell announced last night the establishment of specialized placement services for executive and professional employees as part of the national employment service under the unemployment insurance commission. vious military commitments to the United Nations, without parliamentary debate and approval.

This question is the most vexing one at present before the United States Congress, where the situation is entirely different from that in Canada, due to U.S. separation of the legislative and executive functions.

The American Congress hesitates to endow its executive with the armed force against an aggressor nation at the behest of the proposed security council because the executive cannot be immediately questioned in Congress concerning its intentions, since the executive is not a part of, nor responsible to, Congress.

MAKE DOUBLY SURE

In the British, that is, Canadian parliamentary system, where the cabinet members are a part of and directly responsible to parliament, such immediate information is at all times available to members of parliament. To make such assurance doubly sure, however, Mr. King has already promised that the separate agreement which each nation to furnish a specified quota of armed forces for use against an aggressor, will be submitted to parliament.

Thus Mr. King in his speech said: "As they stand, the proposals to furnish armed forces to the security council would in no way commit Canada to send forces beyond Canadian territory at the call of the security council. If any such commitment were sought, it would be embodied in a later agreement freely negotiated by the government of Canada, and coming into effect only after it had been approved by parliament."

This, however, left open the question of how far Canada would go if the first parliamentary authorization to use a specific amount of armed forces abroad were insufficient. It is on the latter point that The Bulletin is given to understand that any requirement to augment such an original expeditionary force for immediate use against an aggressor also would have to be laid before the Canadian parliament for approval.

Air Vice-Marshal Sully Will Leave Service April 15th

OTTAWA, March 22.—(CP)—Air Vice-Marshal Sully, 63, of Montreal, air member for personnel, will retire April 15 from the RCAF to return to private business after more than five years of outstanding service in organization and administration work, air force headquarters announced yesterday.

Air Vice-Marshal Sully, a First Great War pilot, will return to his peacetime position as an executive of a large insurance company in Montreal. Air Force headquarters said he was retiring at his own request.

No successor has been named, but it was understood that Air Commodore Hugh Campbell, Ottawa, assistant chief of air staff, was being considered for the post.

Quebec Requests Govt. Keep Promise On Overseas Draft

QUEBEC, March 22.—(CP)—The Quebec legislature last night unanimously adopted a motion asking the federal government to "keep its promises regarding conscription for overseas service" and to "re-establish immediately the voluntary system". The motion, introduced by Albert Lemieux, Bloc Populaire member for Beauharnois, was adopted without debate after Mr. Lemieux said that the present federal government "promised conscription would never be enforced in Canada."

Proposes Dominion Have "City of Peace"

OTTAWA, March 22.—(CP)—Creation of a "City of Peace" in Canada to become the home of the new world security organization was proposed yesterday in the Commons by Arthur Slaght, Liberal member for Parry Sound constituency in Ontario. Speaking in the debate on the San Francisco security conference, he urged that the Canadian delegation extend an invitation to the new organization, or at least some part of it to establish headquarters in Canada.

D.E. Mould Made Rehabilitation Superintendent

D. E. "Del" Mould, chairman of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council here for the last two years, and a veteran of the First Great War, has been appointed district superintendent of rehabilitation for Northern Alberta, according to an announcement made Thursday by the Department of Veterans' Affairs, Ottawa. Mr. Mould has already taken over his new duties.

He will be responsible for the operation of the Dominion rehabilitation program as it pertains to education, vocational training, establishment credits, and such other items as pertain to the successful rehabilitation of returned men and women into civil life.

Mr. Mould has opened an office at Room 116 in the Redwood Building, Jasper avenue and 113 street.

SERVED IN FRANCE

Mr. Mould left Edmonton in the spring of 1916 with the 202nd Sportsmen's Battalion under command of the late Lt. Col. P. E. Bowen. He saw service in France with the mechanical transport and while in France transferred to the Royal Flying Corps with which service he was connected when the war ended.

Since returned to Canada he has been associated with the plumbing and heating trade in Edmonton with the firm of J. W. Mould and Son, Ltd. He will continue to be connected with his business.

He is a past vice-president of the Edmonton Kiwanis Club and is business manager of the Kiwanis Glee Club, which organization has provided entertainment for all branches of the armed services in Edmonton and district for the last five years. He is also general chairman of the Rehabilitation Council for the western district of Kiwanis International.

hard fists, but they certainly fight hard as do all the Germans."

SLAVE TO DISCIPLINE

The Nazi is a slave to discipline no matter how hopeless the situation and all prisoners readily admit the war is lost, Massie said. But they still fight virtually to the last man when so ordered as was illustrated in the battle for a small island in the Scheldt Estuary fighting.

"We estimated there were about 100 Germans in the garrison. When we finally took the island we found 100 dead Germans including the lieutenant commanding. We captured 30 prisoners, he said.

On the staff of the 4th Armored Division from April to the time he left Holland, Major Massie said that Col. J. L. Rulison, former minister of national defence, called the 4th Armored Division "the Edmonton division."

MANY FROM CITY

"There are a lot of Edmonton officers in the outfit, including Brig. J. C. Jefferson, DSO, ED, former commanding officer of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment; Lt.-Col. John Proctor; Lt.-Col. Robert "Bob" Bradburn; Lt.-Col. R. E. Jones, and Maj. C. S. Campbell and there was Brig. J. N. Lane, DSO, who was killed in action," Maj. Massie said.

The Edmonton fellows are all doing a wonderful job, with Maj. Clarence Campbell coming in for special mention for fine staff work, he said.

"And don't forget all the Edmonton boys in the ranks who are simply marvellous under all conditions," the officer added.

ARTILLERY WAR

Since "D" Day it has been largely an artillery war on the Canadian front with Canadian artillery proving just as good and probably better than the enemy's best in this department.

Winning his commission in the Reserve Army early in the war, Massie went on active service with the 95th Bty. RCA, of Calgary in 1941, as a captain. Going overseas in 1942 he served as a troop commander of artillery in the 4th Armored Division.

He returned to Canada for a staff course at Kingston and in April 1944 went to headquarters staff of the 4th Armored Division. Major Massie plans to resume his law practice here very soon.

Jury Is Unable To Reach Verdict In North Murder

WHITEHORSE, Y.T., March 22.—(CP)—A Yukon territorial court jury yesterday failed to reach a verdict in the case of Magdalen Isaac, Indian woman charged with the murder of her step-daughter, Mary, last Oct. 13, and Judge J. E. Gibben discharged the members and ordered a new trial to begin Thursday.

The jury deliberated 4 1/2 hours before announcing disagreement. The foreman said that "Due to the fact some members of the jury were opposed to capital punishment they were unable to reach a verdict."

Crown counsel in the trial is Col. H. A. Dyde, and the defence is being conducted by Charles H. Grant, K.C., both of Edmonton.

Two Maturities To Be Offered In Eighth Loan

OTTAWA, March 22.—(CP)—Finance Minister Ilsley announced last night that Canada's eighth Victory loan, opening April 23 with a minimum objective of $1,350,000,000 will be offered in two maturities—one of 18 years and five months and the other of four years and six months.

The long-term issue, bearing interest at three per cent, will mature at 100, Oct. 1, 1963, and will be callable in or after 1959 while the shorter issue, bearing interest at 1 1/2 per cent, will mature at 100, Nov. 1, 1949, and will not be callable before maturity.

TO BE DATED MAY 1

Both issues will be dated May 1, 1945, and will be issued at 100. The first interest coupon of the three-per-cent issue will be for five months with succeeding coupons falling due semi-annually on April 1, and Oct. 1.

At $1,350,000,000, the minimum objective of the three-week drive will be $50,000,000 above that of the seventh loan last fall, when Canadians invested $1,517,000,000, an all-time high. The minimum objective for individuals in the new loan will be $675,000,000, an increase of $75,000,000 over the last campaign.

In a statement accompanying last night's announcement of maturities, Mr. Ilsley said that even if the war in Europe should end shortly Canada's expenditures, and consequently the country's borrowing requirement, for the next fiscal year would continue to be high.

BIG EXPENDITURES

"The cease fire in Germany will not remove the necessity for enormous expenditures required for the maintenance and support of our armed forces through the period of their homecoming, demobilization and rehabilitation," he added.

"Then, too, there will be the substantial costs of our participation in the Pacific war."

better, in wartime, by going from coast to coast hiring halls and making purely political speeches."

"DISSENT" EXPRESSED

There were audible expressions of dissent to this sentiment from the opposition benches.

At the evening session, Jean Francoeur Pouliot, Temiscouata, who crossed to the Independent group from the Liberal side on the conscription issue, brought up Mr. Graydon's demand that the prime minister should permit the Progressive Conservatives to name their members on the San Francisco delegation.

"If I had been the prime minister," said Mr. Pouliot, "my reply would have been obvious. I would have said: 'You take what I give you or you take nothing.'"

A plot is making among the Press Gallery inhabitants to arrange a verbal duel between Mr. Pouliot and W. Garfield case, the newly-elected Progressive Conservative from Grey North. Mr. Pouliot has let it be known that he is looking for Mr. Case with the idea of cutting him to the heart—with words, Mr. Case, according to Grey North reports, is no slouch himself when it comes to verbally carving up an opponent. Bets are already being made at even money.

Russia May Want Republics Members Of Security Group

NEW YORK, March 22.—(AP)—Newsweek magazine said today that the Soviet government will propose separate membership for some of its larger member republics in the world security organization to be formed at the forthcoming San Francisco conference.

This proposal, which would give the Russians one vote for each member, will be supported by the other sponsoring powers of the conference, under a compromise reached by the "Big Three" at Yalta, the magazine said.

The Russians originally demanded independent membership for all 16 member republics, according to Newsweek.

PRIVATE BUCK—That's not a very good hide-out, Buck—I came near pickin' up your nose to peel it!

Ban From Mail Of Shields' Paper Asked by Quebec

QUEBEC, March 22.—(CP)—Ban from the mail of the Gospel Witness, weekly paper published by Rev. T. T. Shields of Toronto, was asked yesterday in the Quebec legislature.

Henri Drouin, Liberal member for Abitibi East, asked Premier Duplessis why Mr. Shields' paper was allowed to be mailed to points in Quebec.

Mr. Duplessis said that all questions regarding mail privileges should be referred to the federal government. He added he "immediately gave orders as soon as we took office that that paper be barred from the legislature's post office."

$600 Question!

BOSTON, March 22.—(AP)—It was a $600 question that Archbishop Richard J. Cushing asked a nun.

The Roman Catholic prelate revealed yesterday that on a recent visit to the home of the Little Sisters of the Poor he met one of the older nuns.

He said: "Sister, you have been here for 40 years—what can I buy for an anniversary present?"

Instead of a spiritual offering he had expected the nun asked for a potato mashing machine.

It cost him $600.

Debate Ended

REGINA, March 22.—(CP)—The four-day budget debate ended in the Saskatchewan Legislature yesterday with a 41-5 vote in favor of the motion of Provincial Treasurer C. M. Funn, that Speaker Johnson leave the chair for consideration of estimates in committee. The five-man Liberal opposition voted against the motion.

Tribute Paid Canada, King By Quebec MP

By CHESTER BLOOM

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, March 22.—One of the most significant speeches in the House Wednesday afternoon in support of Canada playing a full part at the San Francisco conference of United Nations was made by L. Philippe Picard, K.C., Bellechasse, Quebec. On the subject of Canada taking a full part in organizing the world for peace as an autonomous nation within the British Commonwealth, Mr. Picard was exceptionally eloquent.

Lending special point to his remarks is the fact that at the last November extra session of the House, Mr. Picard opposed his government on the conscription issue.

In the House Wednesday, however, the member from Bellechasse reviewed at great length Canada's long struggle for autonomy. He paid special tribute to the late great Ernest Lapointe and Prime Minister King for their untiring work in this respect and went on:

WILL OF THE NATION

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

MOOSE JAW, Sask., March 22.—With the stern reality of elimination from the Abbot Cup semi-finals staring them in the face, Edmonton Canadians are determined to make tonight's their biggest bid of the series with Moose Jaw and they still say they can take the Canucks. Another sell-out crowd is the prospect, only a few tickets being available last night.

The Alberta champions had opportunities galore to bang in goals Tuesday night. Bev Bentley turned in another good performance in the net, but poor finishing rather than spectacular goaling, plus penalties beat the Edmonton boys. They had the chances, but they failed to take advantage of them.

Canucks are a good club and they have several good finishers. They proved that in all games to date. However, Canadians know now that they can skate with the Moose Jaw juniors and they also realize it will be necessary to slow down some of their opponents' key men. It seems highly probable there will be more robust checking tonight.

BUTLER WAS STOPPED COLD

DICK BUTLER, whose flashy stick work made such a hit with Edmonton fans in the opening game of the series, may not be in the Moose Jaw lineup tonight. There is a possibility that Jackie Miller, who has been out with injuries for some time may take his place.

Dick was one of the least of the Canadians' worries on Tuesday. A stiff body check handed out by Leo Sorsa when the game was only a few minutes old, slowed down Butler almost to a walk.

Another jolt late in the third period stopped him completely. Frank Ashworth, who really looks better than Butler when the chips are down, also was jarred several times. Frank got one assist, but Butler never appeared in the goal-summery at all.

Having seen Canucks three times, this operator is of the opinion Metro Prystai, the Yorkton boy, not only is the best player on the Canucks lineup, but that he'll go farther in hockey than any of the others. Prystai was given a heavy ride in Tuesday's game, but he always came back looking for more and he was travelling just as fast in the final period as in the first. Incidentally, the Canadians like Prystai and they say that he not only is a fine player, but a swell fellow on the ice as well.

SAYS SOME PENALTIES "SILLY"

APPARENTLY some of the penalties handed out to Canadians on Tuesday didn't go over very big with others in the rink. Bill Bronsted covered the game for his paper, the Regina Leader-Post, and in his column yesterday, had the following comment concerning that phase of the struggle:

"They (Canadians) ran into a number of penalties, some of them pretty silly, that cost three goals."

In another paragraph Bill says, "checking was too close for Canucks to open up their slickest passing plays, and Canadians were too busy to be bothered with much in the hipper-dipper line."

It is claimed here that Tuesday night's crowd was the biggest to see a hockey game in the Moose Jaw Arena since the old pro days, and that about 300 more jammed into the rink than saw the Winnipeg Monarchs play earlier in the year. The board of trade dinner originally planned for yesterday was postponed until today.

Lost Too Many Players

Season Will Be "Brutal" For Reds Says McKechnie

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., March 22.—(AP)—"This season will be brutal for us. We simply have lost too many players," So speaks manager Bill McKechnie of his Cincinnati Reds baseball team he has piloted to two National League pennants and never to lower than fourth place in seven seasons.

Right now, he predicts the champion St. Louis Cardinals, the runner-up Pittsburgh and Chicago Cubs, who finished fourth behind the Reds last season, are the class of the league.

As the Reds opened their third day of spring training, only a half-dozen performers were missing from the 29 scheduled to report. These included such key men as pitchers Bucky Walters, who won 23 games in 1944, and Heusser (13-11); veteran first baseman Frank McCormick; outfielder Gerry Walker and second baseman Woody Williams. McKechnie, however, was worried only over Walters.

Walters is working in a Philadelphia war plant and thus far hasn't got his customary leave to play baseball. The same is true for 35-year-old Heusser.

However, under a ruling announced yesterday by the War Manpower Commission, it was believed both Walters and Heusser would be able to leave their present jobs and report to the camp within a few days. The ruling makes it possible for players engaged in essential industry during the off-season to return to their "principal employment" without going through the U.S. employment service.

Major Baseball Given A Break

WASHINGTON, March 22.—(AP)—Baseball got another break Wednesday in a decision by the War Manpower Commission that players may return to the game from off-season employment, such as war plant jobs.

The WMC said, in effect, that baseball is the principal business of these men, in most instances, and that they have the right to work at it.

Under this ruling, most players, coaches and managers may leave off-season jobs and go back to the diamond without asking for a certificate of availability or referral card under WMC's job program.

TORONTO, March 22.—(CP)—The Canadian open, premier Canadian golf tournament suspended since 1942 due to the war, will be played this year and its value doubled, it was decided Tuesday at the annual meeting of the Royal Canadian Golf Association here.

Total prize monies for the open will be at least $10,000. Location will be settled later.

The last Canadian open was held at the Mississauga Golf Club near Toronto in 1942 and was won by Craig Wood. At that time the open was worth $5,000.

H. R. Frost of Toronto was elected president of the association, succeeding Dr. A. W. Matthews of Edmonton.

Officers elected to the executive include Hon. John Hart, British Columbia; Dr. W. C. Boardfoot, Alberta; E. M. Holliday, Saskatchewan; Dr. P. J. Gallagher, Manitoba.

Announces Dates Girls' Basketball

HALIFAX, March 22.—(CP)—Ft. Lt. Charles McLachlan of the RCAF last night announced dates for western Canadian women's basketball play-offs. Saskatchewan and Alberta play best-of-three series which will go three games even if one team wins the first two, he said.

The teams have agreed that all provinces entering the finals share travelling expenses equally and have also agreed to guarantee $15 daily for meals during series in any city, he said.

Date of the series are: Saskatchewan, best-of-three, March 29, 30, 31.

Alberta, best-of-three, April 2, 3, 4.

British Columbia, best-of-five, April 6, 7, 9, 10, 11.

Ft. Lt. McLachlan is president of the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association.

Alberta's representatives in the playdowns are Edmonton Army and Navy Pats, who won the Alberta title last Saturday by ousting Calgary Wittichens.

Pee Wee Final Set For Friday

Second game in the two-game, total-goal final for the Edmonton Athletic Club pee wee hockey championship will be played at the Arena Friday night starting at 8:30 o'clock. Sunland holds a three goal margin in the series over Fairways, but the latter may surprise as they did in the semi-final and force the Sunland club to go all out. Sunland won the opener Tuesday, 5-2.

Training Camp Notes

FREDERICK, Md., March 22.—(AP)—Thomas Woodrow Crowson, who won 12 and dropped six pitching for Toronto Maple Leafs last year, arrived Tuesday in the Philadelphia Athletics' training camp.

MUNCIE, Ind.—Pittsburgh Pirates solved most of their pitching problems when Rip Sewell, 21-game winner last year, formally signed his contract, and Max Butcher, who won 13 for the Bucks in 1944, reported to camp.

Infielder Frankie Zak, who had been dickering over salary terms, informed the club he was signing and would report as soon as he gets a release from his present job.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J.—Hank Borowy, right handed flinger who had the best earned run average on the New York Yankee staff last year, signed his 1945 contract Tuesday. Outfielder Johnny Lindell, who hit an even .300 in 1944, also arrived in camp.

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N.Y.—Even though he watched Leo Durocher practice around second base in Tuesday's outdoor workout at the Brooklyn Dodgers camp, President Branch Ruckey didn't hesitate to announce he would give the manager a bonus of $1,000 if he played that position in the first 15 games of the season.

St. Mike's Takes OHA Junior Title

GALT, Ont., March 22.—(CP)—St. Michael's Majors last night won the Ontario Hockey Association Junior "A" championship when they defeated Galt Red Wings 5-1 in the fourth game of a best-of-seven series. St. Michael's took the series in straight games.

Rated prime favorites to capture the Memorial Cup, the Majors took a 1-0 lead at the end of the first period on Joe Sadler's marker. They widened their edge to 3-1 in the next frame on goals by Len Costello and Bill Turk while Bill Adams netted Galt's lone counter. Leo Gravelle, league-leading scorer, added two more goals in the final session for good measure.

It has not been announced who St. Michael's will meet in the next round of the Memorial Cup playdowns but it is expected to be Porcupine All-Stars, Northern Ontario junior representatives.

Leafs' Win in First Game Has Canadian Fans Wondering

MONTREAL, March 22.—(CP)—The post-mortems flew thick and fast around Montreal today, with some National Hockey League fans saying it should never have happened and others conceding that it could happen again.

The subject of discussion, of course, was Tuesday night's 1-0 victory of Toronto Maple Leafs over the NHL champion Montreal Canadiens in the first game of their Stanley Cup semi-final series.

The fans who watched Ted Kennedy break up a hard-fought game with a golfered shot that found the net in the final 22 seconds, described the goal variously as a fluke, a break and a gift. Maybe it was all of those things, but it was also a game-winner that put the Leafs one up and that is what counts in the play-offs.

Last night, the Canucks board of strategy was busy mapping plans to break out of the close-checking web so that a few goals could be scored in the second game here tonight. Canadians put more faith in new strategy than in the dubious consolation that Leafs took the first game of the same series last year and then dropped four in a row.

U.S. Bookies May "Open Up" Soon

NEW YORK, March 22.—(CP)—Dan Parker, sport columnist in the Daily Mirror, today predicted that American bookmakers who ceased to operate when horse racing was banned in the United States will "come out of hiding" when eastern Canada's racing season opens in Toronto May 19.

Parker said that slow communications and lack of knowledge regarding the horses running in Mexico and Cuba had led many bookies to suspend operations but said when racing starts in Canada "things will be different."

"Toronto, Hamilton, Niagara Falls, Ont., and Fort Erie should prepare for an influx of Yankee Doodle boys while they are playing host to the ponies," Parker added.

no changes in his team's lineup. "We figure Tuesday night's game was just one of our bad ones and we're willing to stand pat on our present selection."

More than 3,500 fans are expected to attend the game.

By Jack Cuddy

NEW YORK, March 22.—(BUP)—The world champion St. Louis Cardinals are going to have so many pitchers when the war ends that head man Sam Breadon may have to call in the surplus commodities corporation to dispose of them, it seemed evident today.

Although such a situation seems amazing in these days of acute manpower shortage, the Cards will "be stacked" with the greatest accumulation of top quality hurling talent ever owned by one major league team when their fighting men come home.

All of this came to light Wednesday in the red-white-blue bedecked roster of the world champions—a roster that brought back memories of some of the standout pitchers that we have seen.

Among the 28 men now serving their country for the Redbirds are 10 pitchers of proven major league ability. Add that the six established regular hurlers from last year's championship squad, and the six standout newcomers up from farm clubs and it totals better than three complete pitching staffs.

And that doesn't include the inevitably promising crop of youngsters now working out with Cardinals farm clubs and who through regular Breadon "graduation exercises" will advance through the ranks until they too are major league timber.

HOPES FOR BIG SALE
So what is the alternative? It appears to us that Breadon will have to conduct the greatest and—be honest—the most expensive sale of "soup bones" in history and he'll have one inducement. Buyers won't need any ration points, but it should take plenty of cold cash.

According to major and minor league regulations tentatively in effect, but awaiting clarification, when the service men return they must be given a period in which to acclimate themselves with the club or their pre-war connection. Players on the club at the same time will have the same status as any major league player, they may be sold, traded, optioned, waived, or released.

That would make it appear that the first Redbirds to go on the auction block would be the current veterans and the new comers, which would give the 10 returning service men first call for regular pitching duties. And what a staff that will be, if they all can get together again.

There's Johnny Beazley, a 21 and 6 winner as a rookie, who stopped the Yankees in the 1942 world series. There were a pair of great prospects who didn't get a chance to play in the majors because they were called in that year. One was John Grodzicki, (25 and 5) Columbus in 1941, who was described by Breadon as "one of the pitchers we have developed." The other was Mat Surkont, fast expert, (10 and 6) at Rochester.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS
HOWIE POLLET, the left-hander, has some unfinished business. He left in 1943 after pitching straight shutouts, going (8-4). Others who went were Alpha Brazle (8-2), Dickson (8-2), Howie Krieger and southpaw Ernie White. The Yankees won't forget He shut them out in the 1942 series.

From last year's staff, George Mauer, inducted with an (11-3) record, Schmidt, a promising pitcher. These men now pitch for Uncle Sam. Mauer had a record of 114 victories and 41 shutouts last season. The six top holdovers were year 81 and last year's winners, Cooper (22-7), Ted V. Max Lanier (17-12), (7-9) and Bill Donohue.

The top minor leaguer this year was 70 and 1944 campaign. They are hardy (15-9), Henry Stan Parkenheimer (14-12), Jack and El Buerly (15-11) and a Beazley, Cook among them.

Fans Shouldn't Criticize First Games Junior Series Are Still Being Discussed

By CECIL GOLDSTICK

WHILE our Canadians are hanging on thin threads down Moose Jaw way, the air up here is still buzzing with discussion of those first two games of the series in the local ice palace last week. When you see two sport-minded people together, ten chances to one it will be the present Canadian-Canuck series they'll be talking about.

Some of these people may be average fans—those that like their hockey—and are quite satisfied as long as they get their money's worth. Others might be of the type that like to criticize in a big way, pull everyone apart, blame somebody.

For instance around a local coffee counter yesterday this scribbler happened to break in on a confab between a former hockey star and a fan. It was interesting to hear both views until the fan said he was disgusted with the coaching of the Canadians.

This particular fan admitted Saturday night's game was the first he had seen all winter.

True enough it's the fan's own privilege to criticize. They pay their way and are entitled to voice their own opinion. But when a person only looks in on one game during the entire season and gets overheated because he had to stand up for sixty minutes, there's no reason why he should take it out on the coach.

REMARKABLE JOB
Personally I am inclined to believe that Clarence Moher has done a remarkable job of handling the Canadians this winter. Losing to a club like Moose Jaw is no disgrace. They have a club that has plenty of experience. Take players like Butler, Marquess and Bentley, for example. These boys played with a club last year that went to the Memorial Cup final. Remember what happened to them?

Moher didn't have the material to work with that Roy Bentley has in the Moose Jaw club. Sure he has some good hockey players, but none of them ever knew what a western or a Dominion final looked like.

Don Campbell played 21 games in the NHL with the Chicago Black Hawks last year. "It's a pleasure playing for a fellow like Clarence. I've learned more hockey this year than I ever have. He really makes you hustle and uses good judgment," Don told us recently.

Campbell isn't the only one on the club that speaks that way about their coach. Just let some like this would-be fan get caught making any rash statements about Coach Moher in front of any of his players. They all like him; just ask the players themselves.

EDMONTON CAN BE PROUD
Edmonton should be proud of the Canadians despite the fact they are taking it on the chin. Nobody can say that they are a bunch of quitters. They go out and give all they have got. The Moose Jaw club will tell you that. Perhaps if they go out and swing a body-check in old man fortune they may win a game from the Saskatchewan champs yet. Moher and his young pucksters will be welcome back here no matter what happens.

Several hockey fans around town are asking why Albert Superstein wasn't used by the Canadians. Coach Moher would have given anything to have him. Moher will tell you himself that "Super" would have made a big difference in his rear guard. Albert would have given his "right arm" to be in there. "I like Clarence and I would have played my heart out for him," says the big defence ace.

But it seems that a couple of years back while playing for the St. Boniface club in a Winnipeg Junior league, he registered as being born in 1924, which would make him too old for junior company this season. Albert realized he made an error and says he has papers to prove he is still young enough to play junior this year.

NO BIRTH CERTIFICATE
Being born in Poland, Albert hasn't a birth certificate, but he has written affidavits, sworn by his parents saying he was born in 1925.

Officials of the Canadian Athletic Club took these papers and produced them, but they weren't sufficient for the CAHA. They wanted a birth certificate. The lad didn't have one. Then he was asked to get still further papers which was done. The papers were all sent east to Toronto but a vote by the CAHA turned them down.

Wise cracks that were unfair were pinned on him. It was heard out at the arena during the Canadian series with Calgary that he played junior hockey the same time as Bruce MacKay. At that time "Super" was selling programs at the arena which was around 1938.

NEW YORK, March 22.—(AP)—Track fans, never the ones to be stumped by a mere "impossibility," have come up with a couple of suggestions for remedying the false start ailment . . . Carl Hogenborn, of North English, Iowa, figures the old one-yard penalty for a break can be applied to indoor dashes simply by advancing the rest of the field a yard . . . "In such an event no official time should be allowed," Hogenborn admits, "but who cares about records?" . . . The athletes and a good many spectators usually are interested . . . And Alfred Falcone of East Hartford, Conn., proposes hanging a big clock in front of the starting line so the runners could watch the seconds tick off and start when a gun was fired automatically . . . An electric eye at the finish would be hooked up to record the exact time . . . That one really would be an invitation for expert gun-jumpers to be in motion when the shot went off.

Frood Open Pit Prolongs Series

TORONTO, March 22.—(CP)—A third-period goal by Jim Dewey last night gave Frood Open Pit a 3-2 victory against Hamilton Majors in the third game of their best-of-seven series for the Ontario senior championship. Majors lead the series 2-1.

The northern Ontario champions, trailing 2-1 entering the second period on goals by Dillon Brady and John Conick for Hamilton and Ab Clouthier for Frood, drew into a 3-3 tie before the period ended. Roy Webster and W. Lemieux scored for Frood and Clarence Shillington counted for Majors.

EFFECTS OF WAR
Shadow Career Of Red Durrett

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N.Y., March 21.—(AP)—Professional athletes in the services may find the answer to some of their own "comeback" problems in the struggle for a Brooklyn Dodgers' job of Elmer (Red) Durrett, a discharged marine veteran who spent "too many months" on Guadalcanal.

Recurring attacks of malaria and the after-effects of shell shock still shadow Durrett's baseball career. The 25-year-old veteran from Dallas, Texas, has an even money shot of landing the regular left field berth under Manager Leo Durocher.

If Augie Galan is moved into the infield to replace Howie Schultz at first base, Durrett stands an equal chance with Goody Rosen, Morris Aderholt and French Bordagary for the one undecided garden spot. Luis Olmo in centre and Dixie Walker in right are regarded as fixtures.

The strain of the 1944 international baseball campaign, his first since return from service, cost Durrett 90 pounds of his batting average at Montreal and 10 pounds of weight in a mid-summer slump. The carotid-topped Texan never did regain his 230 pace, but came out of it and pulled back to .292 at the season end, driving in 86 runs and making 141 hits count for 240 total bases.

CHANGES TO TRAFFIC ACT ARE APPROVED BY MANITOBA HOUSE

WINNIPEG, March 22.—(CP)—The Manitoba legislature yesterday gave third reading to amendments in the Highway Traffic Act providing for establishment of an "unsatisfied judgment" fund for the protection of persons injured or the relatives of those killed in traffic mishaps by an irresponsible driver without assets. The bill will become effective upon proclamation, which Attorney-General J. O. McLaughlin said earlier likely would be at the start of the 1946 license year, Jan. 1 next.

CANADIAN SPORTSHOTS

By FRED KERNER

TORONTO, March 22.—(CP)—All that is left of the National Hockey League season is the Stanley Cup playoffs and selection of an all-star team by The Canadian Press and that will keep the fans a-buzzin' for some weeks to come. But now that awards have been made and scoring championships won, NHL fans have forgotten the past and look to the future.

Part of the past—the very recent past—includes the name of Bentley. This year of course the Delta, Saskatchewan Bentleys were out of the hockey picture, at least so far as the major league goes. The Bentleys are a grand hockey family and two of them—Max and Doug—were the pupil in the public's eye short years back.

Max and Doug played for Chicago Black Hawks—you probably haven't forgotten—and the former won the Lady Byng trophy while the latter capped a league scoring championship. A few years before that there were five Bentleys starting for the powerful Drumheller Miners. As it happens, four of that famous family, including Doug and Max, are still playing and the other is coaching.

Doug is the star of the Laura Beavers in a Saskatchewan intermediate league. Max and Reg played for Currie Army in the Alberta service loop, while Scoop is hammering goals for Frank Dutton's Seattle Ironmen. Brother Roy master-minds the Moose Jaw Junior Canucks and Bentley No. 6, his son, plays in the nets for the strong junior squad.

In Brentwood, B.C., lives a lady named Mrs. Lavinia Shotholt, and this Mrs. Shotholt is one of the province's most enthusiastic fishermen. She's always ready to help the newcomer to the art of the angler and weaves a fly or worm with equal dexterity. These days however, she gets out to the streams and ponds less often than she'd like—for you see, she's 91. If you're looking for a lady bowler for that team of yours, contact Miss Jean Moskaluk of Weyburn, Sask. She's only been a beginner for the past two years, but entered in the Regina five pin bowling association tournament, she came up with the hottest single game in the carnival. She toppled the maples for 431, and her three totals was 980—a record for "B" singles competition in Regina.

ODDS AND ENDING
Nanaimo interests are said to be considering a bid to make that city the home base of Andy Paul's Indian lacrosse team on the west coast . . . It took an airman to introduce the fine art of archery to St. Thomas, Ont. Thanks to the efforts of Ft. Sgt. Johnny Walker, that city now boasts an archery club . . . Northern Ontario looks to the future and envisions hockey teams travelling by air. Winnipeg eager, Dave Greenberg, who starred for Montreal Combines is playing with Sir George Williams college Georgians as a military replacement for Vancouver's Jim Bardaley, Ken (Vancouver Province) McConnel names Dan McKenzie Canadiana's mistle lacrosse. What about Cornwall's Joe Lally?

Win Medal
OTTAWA, March 22.—(CP)—Navy Minister Macdonald announced last night that the Albert Medal, instituted by Queen Victoria in 1860 for gallantry in saving life, has been awarded to Staker George Everett Goodwin of MacGregory, Man., and Warrant Electrician Ernest Alfred Wooding of Toronto.

EXPECT DECISION

Mayor John W. Fry intimated that a decision would be reached prior to Monday's council meeting in the negotiations now being carried on with the executive of the Municipal Employees' Federation regarding improved working conditions.

It is understood that the employees are asking for an increase of a unit-and-one-half in the city's contribution to the city's pension fund. A compromise offer has been made by the commissioners which is being considered by the employees' representatives. A decision on this is expected within the next few days.

In the meantime consideration of this pension contribution item in the budget has been held over until the negotiations have been completed.

A total of $445,500 will be paid by the utilities in taxes, $368,334 will be derived from the five per cent revenue tax, and net surplus will amount to an estimated $397,789.

Co-Operative Group Assists Home Building

Edmonton Co-operative Housing Association has assisted residents of the city to build $230,000 worth of homes. It was reported by J. B. Gillies, president, at the annual meeting held recently. A total of 49 homes have been built and occupied and the 1945 program will commence as soon as weather conditions permit.

BOARD IS NAMED

Following elections, the board of directors was named as follows: J. B. Gillies, president; J. W. Brown, vice-president; W. Hazzard, secretary-treasurer; C. G. Little, K.C., solicitor; David Forster and H. D. Carrigan.

Explaining the function of the organization as that of a savings and loan association, Mr. Gillies said the great need of the moment was for investing members, rather than those who desire to build immediately.

An illustrated booklet is being prepared for the information of prospective members, showing a number of the modern homes built by the association and outlining its purpose and scope.

"The growing volume of business, which will continue in the future, points to the eventual need of a full time office and staff," said Mr. Gillies.

POOL WILL GROW

"The situation is approaching when monthly income will build one new home out of savings alone. As each is built, the pool grows larger."

"By borrowing from the co-operative pool of savings, our members are enabled to build their homes. The co-operative feature is continued by these borrowers making new savings from which fellow members can borrow."

Mr. Gillies stressed that the total of loan repayment, interest and savings approximates the average amount paid as rent for homes of similar type.

Physical Fitness Program Outlined

Ian Eisenhardt, national director of physical fitness outlined the aims and objects of the National Physical Fitness Act to the Civic Recreation Commission Wednesday night at a meeting held in the School Board rooms in the Civic Block. Other groups were represented at the meeting, including the Council of Social Agencies and Home and School Association.

Mr. Eisenhardt said his group represents all participating provinces and is an advisory body to the Dominion government. He stressed the fact that the success of the recently planned program depends upon the whole-hearted co-operation of the Canadian people.

The new act came into being, he said, as a result of consistent demand by organizations across Canada interested in physical and cultural art.

A fund of $225,000 has been set up to be distributed among the provinces to aid the program.

Lack of facilities was a drawback in carrying out the program on a full-scale and it was learned that part of the fund would go toward obtaining these facilities. He said he was pleased with the response given the program in Alberta.

City Beautifying Campaign Planned

A "Beautifying Edmonton and Alberta" campaign will be conducted from April 28 to May 5 inclusive by Junior Chambers of Commerce in the province. It was announced at a meeting of the club held in the Macdonald hotel Wednesday evening.

The campaign is being revived after several years and was previously known as the "Beautify Edmonton" campaign. The Calgary club is looking after the southern portion of the province, while the Edmonton organization will look after the northern section. John Brockie is chairman of the Edmonton campaign.

Guilty of Theft

Mrs. Alice Mellich, Edmonton, was found guilty in supreme court Wednesday by Mr. Justice H. H. Parlee on a charge of stealing Victory Bonds valued at $350, the property of Luther H. Leach, Glendon station agent. She was remanded for sentence until Thursday.

Bill Provides Expropriation Phone Firms

Designed to give the government power to expropriate plant and equipment of certain rural mutual telephone companies, a bill dealing with rural mutual telephone systems was introduced into the legislature Wednesday by Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of railways and telephones.

The bill gives power of expropriation in cases where a rural mutual company has violated an agreement with the government, or has violated other legislation or regulations, or in cases where the minister deems this action advisable.

It is stated in the bill that expropriated companies will receive the amount they paid the government for their equipment, together with a sum considered as fair value of property owned by the company, over and above the amount of original payment.

Rural mutual phone companies were organized all over the province a number of years ago, when they took over equipment and certain plants that had been operated by the government.

Another amending bill introduced deals with the Natural Gas Utilities Act. It will provide clarification in cases where there may be an overlapping of jurisdiction between the natural gas utilities board and the petroleum and natural gas conservation board. No order of the utilities board shall be effective until it receives approval from the conservation board, according to terms of the amendment.

The amendments also provide that the utilities board may make temporary orders in cases where notice of hearing or investigation into rates, charges or other matters, has been given by the board. This action may be taken when the board is of the opinion it is in the public interest, or in the interest of a public utility proprietor, to do so.

Ldg. TEL. AL RAE

THE SAVING GOES that "No news is good news" but there are times when there is no thrill to compare with that which comes with receiving a letter, in the opinion of Mrs. Charles H. Grant, 11021 123 street, who this week got one of the first letters to come from the liberated Philippines.

The letter came from Mrs. Grant's brother, the Rev. Alexander M. Loptson, from whom she had received no direct news for three years, and related a tale of almost a year's hiding from the Japanese, eventual capture and weary months of existence in a series of prison camps.

MEMORABLE DAY
Writing on Feb. 24, the day after he and his wife were liberated from Los Banos prison camp, Mr. Loptson told of their "miraculous rescue" so marvelously timed and carried out by our forces just in time to save the internees from a planned mass execution. He wrote of their overwhelming joy at the sight of American forces and of the "wonderful food and care" they were receiving after months of neglect and near starvation.

Captured in January, 1943, the Loptsons were imprisoned for a month at Zomboanga before being sent to Camp Davao where they spent 10 months and later spent three months in Manila. At Manila they were offered a chance to volunteer to go to Los Banos prison camp and it was there they spent the months until they were freed, Feb. 23, 1945.

An American chaplain, who wrote to Mrs. Grant, described the rescue of those held at Los Banos as perhaps "the most thrilling of all".

He wrote: "Our paratroopers descended on the prison at the precise time when half the prison guards were having their morning calisthenics, and our missionaries and the other internees were lined up for roll call. The air-borne troops overpowered the guards and whisked the internees outside the walls to the amphibious tractors which were waiting for them."

QUICK TRIP
"The tractors roared down to the shore of Laguna de Bay, plunged into the water, and made their way up the lake shore until they reached territory held by our forces. Then they came ashore and loaded their passengers into Army trucks, which took them to safety at New Bilibid Prison at Muntinlupa."

Evidence was found indicating that the Japanese had planned to kill all the internees later in the day. Our missionaries had a special prayer meeting asking for deliverance the day before, but when parachutists dropped from the skies with their "chutes billowing above them like white clouds they could hardly believe their eyes."

Writing of their first day as free citizens Mr. Loptson said "we are all extremely hungry and thin and many are suffering from malnutrition and some have died from starvation for we have had very little food."

Calgary Parley Will Consider Work of Blind

THE REV. A. M. LOPTSON

Post-war employment and services for war-blinded and the civilian blind will be discussed at a meeting of western executive officers of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, to be held at Calgary next week, Capt. M. C. Robinson, Vancouver, Dominion executive officer, stated on his arrival here to confer with Howard Wilton, Edmonton executive officer, and other institute officials.

He said one of the subjects to be discussed will be the adjustments to be made to absorb blind persons at present employed in heavy industry. He said there were 60 such persons employed at Vancouver with similar numbers in other large manufacturing centres.

60 BLINDED
Sixty members of the Canadian forces have been blinded in the present conflict, Captain Robinson stated. Most of them are now taking preliminary training in Britain, some are taking advanced training at Baker Hall, Toronto, while several have returned home to gainful occupations.

He said that the Dominion government's policy of placing concessions of funds for the blinded in all Dominion government buildings will help considerably in the problem of finding employment for men blinded in this war.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Postwar Marital Woes
As Numerous As Ever

Wives Should Prepare Against Losing Husband to Scheming Females; Women Should Remember
That Men Will Play But They Come Back

Some of the crystal-gazers, who are trying to look into the future, ask me what I think marriage is going to be after the war. Not being a prophetess, I do not presume to speak with authority on the subject, but my hunch is that marriage after the war will be like it always has been, only more so. It will have all of the problems with which our forebears have had to contend and added to these will be a brand new set of difficulties and hazards.

Many things lead me to this conclusion. To begin with, after the war men will practically have no choice between being bachelors or bachelors. There will not be enough husbands to go around and so nearly every more or less eligible male will be shackled into the holy estate, or too many will be in his getting his heart's desire in a wife, but it will give him the upper hand in dealing with her, and enable him to indulge his grouches and use his latch key as he pleases. And that's something. How to hold their husbands has always been one of married women's worries, and it is going to be a still worse headache to the postwar wives who know how many nimble ladies are waiting to jump into their shoes.

That the number of divorces after the war will reach astronomical figures is inevitable. The pre-war divorces of boys and girls who married on a few days' or hours' acquaintance, or too many cocktails, can not possibly stand the strain of separation, and meeting new charmers, and growing up. Most of the youngsters realized it at the time, and took their wedding vows with their tongues in their cheeks and the thought back in their minds that they would break them during the duration if they didn't like the looks of Sally or Tom.

Divorces will be as easy to get after the war as apple tart, but there will be one complication that cannot be so easily disposed of, and that is the millions of babies that have been born of those war marriages. Not many men after the war will have the ability or the desire to take on a readymade family, and so while the fascinating divorcee is going to be a charming playmate, no one will raise her matrimonial chances high.

The war has changed women just as much as it has men. Thousands upon thousands of women have discovered that they have skills that they never dreamed they possessed, and they are never going back into the kitchen or the nursery again. Thousands of women have become self-supporting, and they are never going to put up with brutal husbands again.

The postwar husband is going to mind his manners and treat his wife as politely as he does his stenographer, if he expects to stay married, and he will have to do his share of the appealing and give her a fair deal—or else. He can't treat her the way Papa treated Mama, for the clinging-vine wife has gone with the Dodo, and the meek domestic slave is no more.

Undoubtedly marriage will be a much more difficult job to tackle after the war than it has been heretofore, but whether streamlining it will make it better or worse, nobody knows.

America's Card Authority

While a member of the New York Athletic Club, I have never taken time out to visit the card room. John Whitney Richmond, deputy manager of the War Finance Committee in this vicinity, tells me they have some but none ments. Here is a hand that he saw George Olson, the band leader, play the other day.

I cannot say that we should blame South for doubling four hearts, but with the perfect cross-ruff, Olson was able to make his contract.

Dummy's ten was played to the first trick and when South covered with the queen, it was ruffed. A spade was then ruffed and the jack of clubs led. South had to put on the ace. This was ruffed, and another spade ruffed in dummy. On the king of clubs, the declarer discarded a spade.

In all, the declarer made three trumps in dummy, four in his own hand, the ace and king of diamonds and the king of clubs.

Points for Parents

By EDITH THOMAS WALLACE

This Not This

Father: "How about letting me umpire your game? Maybe then we can figure out why you have so many arguments."

Telling children how bad quarreling is has never yet removed the seeds of their quarreling.

Not This

Father: "You boys should be ashamed of yourselves! You never play a game that it doesn't end in an argument!"

Next in the line of the parents' or sure of the neurotic or psychomotoric himself or herself is wrong eating. This sin is so common, covers so much territory and is so poorly comprehended by most people that I shall not attempt to define it in the space available here. It calls for detailed discussion in talks to follow. But please do not imagine it means overeating.

THESE WOMEN—"I know you've got your discharge papers, daughter—but couldn't you at least have waited until you got out of uniform?"

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDERD

No human being can care for a child exclusively, day and night, can curtail all her association with other women, can deny herself recreation with her husband and all participation in civic, literary, political or academic interests without becoming resentful and eventually a martyr.

Many a mother proclaims that she is being imprisoned by her child and yet won't take those steps which are necessary to allow some one else to assume some of the responsibility. Her excuse is that it is her duty to look after her children, without recognizing that she can fulfill the duty by having someone just as responsible do it for her.

Mothers should leave written instructions for all the details of the child's day. Any caretaker should know all about the formula, how it should be heated and to what temperature, whether baby is held in the lap or is old enough to hold the bottle by himself, the clothes to be put on him after his nap and whether he is to be aired outdoors or kept inside the house.

Too much need never be left to the judgment of a person not accustomed to this particular baby. If the mother is shopping and is not as near as the nearest telephone she should make it her obligation to call up at least once after she leaves home to see if things are going smoothly.

Too exclusive devotion to a child's physical care is stifling to the mother's own development. The alert, interested, intelligently busy mother should be able to offer her child more than just properly prepared meals and a good routine. She can insure those, but someone else can, at times, fulfill her duties of carrying them out.

The continuous care of one person, whether Mother or nurse, makes the child too dependent upon that person and increasingly resentful of other attendants.

Too much of this sort of thing and the child becomes a Mama-baby and the parent's martyrdom is complete. The child gets no opportunity to know how happy other persons could make him.

Unquestionably, this suffocating type of devotion is seldom in evidence except with the mother of an "only" child. It is she who must be most alert to see that or eating too much starch or sugar, or eating things difficult to digest, or eating wrong combinations of foods, or eating foods that (as the charlatans and their dupes have it) produce "mucus," "gas," "acidosis," "toxic waste," and the like. These queer fancies should not concern any one who has a knowledge of the rudiments of physiology.

Wrong eating, as will become manifest in the talks to follow, involves two characteristic American faults, as I see it, namely nutritional deficiency due to our abnormal consumption of refined food and weak digestion due to insufficient mastication.

Minute Make-Ups

Do not pencil your eyebrows in a heavy line. Draw the pencil backward from the outer edge in. Then brush smoothly. This gives a natural effect. Brown pencils often give a reddish look. A very dark brown pencil works up well if your eyebrows are very light. A black pencil, used as I suggested gives the most attractive effect.

Extra Estimates
Tabled in Sask.

REGINA, March 22.—(CP)—Provincial treasurer C. M. Fines, yesterday tabled in the Saskatchewan legislature supplementary estimates for the fiscal year 1944-45, ending April 30, totalling $2,327,975. At a special session of the new CCF government last fall supplementary estimates of $3,200,000 were approved.

Personal Health Service
By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

By whatever name they call "shell shock" or "war neurosis" or "battle fatigue," I opined in a talk here last fall, the breakdown would have happened sooner or later, war or no war. Had there been no war the breakdown would have been attributed, I added, when I should have closed my trap and called it a day, to "overwork," worry, business cares, financial responsibilities, domestic strife, the stress and strain of modern life, whatever that may mean.

Now I'll try to define the sins I had in mind.

First there is alcoholic indulgence, by which I mean the use of alcohol as a narcotic or, if you prefer, to be headstrong about it, as a "stimulant." This includes most so-called social drinking and especially the cocktail habit, dropping in at the Refectory for a quick one on the way home to dinner, resorting to the drug alcohol to dull consciousness of one's shortcomings. I believe alcoholic indulgence is accountable for a great deal of the "nervous breakdown," "neurasthenia," "psychoneurosis," "neurasthenia" or whatever fancy name you please to call it. And do not lose sight of the fundamental physiological fact that the only kind of energy scientifically recognized is ordinary physical or muscular energy—no one has shown that a significant amount of energy is expended by the functioning of the brain or the nerves. Some laboratory investigators have thought their observations showed that a college student concentrating for a few hours on a difficult examination used all the energy from one of two peanuts, but it is scientifically fair to question the accuracy of such observations—the energy the investigators assumed the brain expended may have been expended actually by the heart or the breathing muscles or the alimentary muscle.

Next in the line of the parents' or sure of the neurotic or psychomotoric himself or herself is wrong eating. This sin is so common, covers so much territory and is so poorly comprehended by most people that I shall not attempt to define it in the space available here. It calls for detailed discussion in talks to follow. But please do not imagine it means overeating.

HIBERNATING ANIMALS ARE NOT ASLEEP

After feeding until they become very fat, bears, raccoons, groundhogs, etc., do not go to sleep but pass into a condition in which the organs of the body are much more quiet than when the animal is sleeping. For example, the heartbeat is much slower than usual. In mid-winter hibernating animals cannot be awakened by noise or rough handling but only by placing the animal in a heated place for a length of time.

Hon. W. A. Fallow

Claims Federal Government
Blocks North Transportation

Every recent attempt of the Alberta government to improve transportation facilities into the area immediately north of the province has been blocked by the Dominion government. Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, charged in the Legislature Wednesday afternoon.

"The Dominion government has remained blind and insensitive to every overture of this (Alberta) government to co-operate with us in the improvement of any or all means of transportation into that area," Mr. Fallow said. "It is generally known by all of those who know that the Dominion government has a determined policy of preventing any improvement to transportation facilities or any development of the mineral wealth save and except that which had the blessing of the big mining interests."

The minister rose to speak when Bill No. 28 came up for second reading in the assembly. The bill is designed to validate agreements between the government and Oil Sands Ltd., under which a $250,000 pilot extraction plant is to be built in the McMurray oil sand area.

BACKS ONE CLAUSE
Before Mr. Fallow spoke, Elmer E. Roper (CCF-Edmonton) said he was in accord with one principle of the bill, but opposed to a second it contained.

One principle involved was the development of the oil sands, and Mr. Roper expressed complete accord with this.

The second principle, according to the CCF leader, was the procedure to be employed in the development. "To this we are opposed," he said.

The government proposes to spend $250,000 out of public funds to build a pilot plant. Mr. Roper stated, "If the experiment is a success, the government has agreed to sell the pilot plant at cost to a private company which has shown no disposition to risk any of its own money, but which will be given a chance to obtain the profit from the venture if it is successful."

"Because the province is putting up the money and taking all the risk, with a private company obtaining the benefit if there is any, we are opposed to the bill in its present form," Mr. Roper said.

In his 35-minute address, Mr. Fallow said he felt it was necessary to review the "indefensible attitude of the federal government in all matters affecting the welfare of the people of Alberta."

POLITICAL OPPORTUNISTS
He referred to a "long succession of political opportunists, who, whether they entered politics because of the opportunity it afforded for the pillage and plunder of the public domain for their own selfish advantage, or whether in quest of the eternal prize which is dangled continually before their eyes, beckoning them to economic security within the cloistered seclusion of that expensive ornament provided for the care and comfort of the faithful, the Canadian Senate, or whether it is just a mulish stubbornness which will not permit them to leave their sub-conscious minds open long enough to absorb the truth, the result is just the same."

"Consciously or unconsciously, they lend themselves to, and make it possible for the Dominion government to continue, with at least some pretence of decency, their diabolical, detestable, dog-in-the-manger discrimination against the common law rights and privileges of the people of this country," Mr. Fallow said. He declared the time had come when "we must do some plain talking about these matters, no matter who, or how, it hurts."

"We must never permit ourselves to countenance or condone these things for fear of hurting someone's feelings."

Mr. Fallow charged that between 1905 and 1930 the natural wealth which belonged to the people of Alberta was plundered or otherwise disposed of "to the friends of Ottawa" and in 1930, "when it was considered that everything of known value had been effectively and finally alienated from our people they agreed to transfer what was left to the province, but not until the government of Alberta agreed to sign an undertaking that they would honor every contract entered into between the federal government and their friends."

NO ROYALTIES, TAXES
About half of the wealth produced from Alberta's natural resources are not subject to royalties and taxes of the government because absolute title was granted to them by the Dominion, Mr. Fallow said. In addition to this, the government retained title to large tracts of land in Alberta for one purpose or another, and for good measure withheld what was considered the best deposits of oil sands in the McMurray area, the minister stated.

"This was the property on which the Dominion government has recently wasted $2,000,000 of the taxpayers' money, to sabotage future development of these sands and to discredit and discourage any possibility of future development," he added.

When the United States government decided to build the Alaska highway they asked the Dominion government for advice as to location of the road, Mr. Fallow stated. He said it was quite obvious the present location was advised, although it was well-known that the highway could never serve in peacetime as a means of developing the mineral resources of the Mackenzie basin.

CONSULT GOVERNMENT
When the American government decided to build a pipeline from Norman Wells to Whitehorse, the Canadian government again was consulted, the minister continued. Advice was also asked as to the best means of transporting 40,000 tons of freight to Norman Wells.

"The Dominion government was aware that the Grimsby-Great Slave Lake road could be completed to an all-weather standard," Mr. Fallow said. "They knew this road could be completed in time to transport the 40,000 tons of freight from Grimsby to Providence, where it could be floated down the Mackenzie river before freezeup that fall."

"But that would have completely ruined their hopes of preventing peacetime development of the northern area and so they advised the U.S. government to use the water route via McMurray and the Athabasca river. When the project was completed everything would return to the status quo and the transportation facilities into the north would not be improved by a single dime, and would still be in full control of the big interests."

Mr. Fallow said the Canol project has been completed and almost immediately abandoned. "If you think it is worth a dime to anyone except the Imperial Oil Company, I would ask you to read what the U.S. senators are saying about it," he added.

SEES HIGHWAYS' END
The minister said that in June the Alaska highway is to be turned back to the Canadian government. "That will be the end of the Alaska highway in its present location," he said. "Three hundred million dollars thrown down a political sewer—and as far as a serviceable highway is concerned, neither Canada nor the U.S. is any nearer than they were before they started."

The Canol agreement gives the Dominion government the first option to buy the pipeline after the war, in which case oil rights of a million square miles of the Northwest Territories and the Yukon would be returned to the Dominion.

"Can anyone imagine the Dominion government putting up $134,000,000 for a pipeline when all they need to do is decline to exercise their option, and the pipeline will be sold to the Imperial Oil at whatever figure they care to give," the minister continued.

He told members he had strongly advocated building a serviceable highway connecting Alaska and the United States through Edmonton, Peace River and down the Mackenzie river.

NEED NOW GREATER
He added that the need for a serviceable military highway connecting the U.S. with Alaska was greater than it ever was, and the American government now realizes that need and now are making inquiries as to the possibilities of getting the road built where it should have been built in the first place—where the Alberta government has always advised that it should be built.

"The Canadian government is even showing some interest in the matter and has asked us if we are prepared to undertake the project and are willing to pay our share of the cost. We have advised them we are prepared to do both at any time they wish to say the word," Mr. Fallow concluded.

The bill then was given second reading. Later, it went before the committee of the whole assembly and after further discussion, it was reported for third reading.

Army Will Issue
Twelve Casualty
Lists Each Week

OTTAWA, March 22.—(CP)—Army casualty lists, which have been issued on a basis of three or four weekly since last November, will reach a peak of 12 a week starting Monday as a result of the recent heavy fighting by Canadian troops on the western front.

The number of lists issued this week will reach eight by Saturday while last week there were four. The last peak period was from mid-July to early November when 12 lists were issued weekly as a result of the June 6 invasion of Europe and the heavy Normandy fighting that followed.

Hit Rail Yards

LONDON, March 22.—(CP)—A strong force of RAF and RCAF bombers, escorted by fighters, late yesterday, attacked the railway yards at Rhein, some 50 miles west of Osnabrueck, the air ministry announced.

WHAT BROUGHT
BACK?

Authorities say the difference between husky children and those who are poor eaters, underweight and nervous is often simply a matter of proper nourishment, especially an adequate supply of vitamins.

But vitamins alone are not enough. For authorities agree that vitamins do not work alone. They work as a team with certain other food elements.

For this reason, thousands are switching to Ovaltine. Unlike mere "vitamin carriers," Ovaltine food beverage contains not only extra vitamins but nearly all the precious food elements needed for health and top vitality. These include Vitamins A, B₁ and D, the important minerals calcium, phosphorus and iron, high quality proteins and quick energy food—food—a combination of food elements authorities agree are needed for best results.

So, if your child is thin, nervous and not developing properly, why not turn to Ovaltine as thousands are doing. Three normal meals plus two glasses of Ovaltine a day give your child all the extra amounts of vitamins and minerals needed for health and top vitality.

OTTAWA, March 22.—(CP)—An agricultural department spokesman said yesterday Canada was exporting no beef cattle to the United States because all surplus meats produced were being sent to Britain where they go into a common pool for the use of civilians and the armed services. Two Held Over 18 Bills Approved as House Deals With New Legislation

In a session devoted almost entirely to consideration of new legislation, eighteen bills were approved by the Legislature in committee of the whole Wednesday afternoon. Two other bills were studied, but approval was withheld until a later sitting. The 18 bills passed require third reading only, before they are assented to and become law.

Most-discussed bill at the sitting was one validating agreements between the government and Oil Sands Ltd., under which the province is providing $250,000 for erection of an oil extraction plant at Bitumount, in the McMurray oil sand region.

Main opposition criticism to the bill was based on the contention that the government was assuming too much risk in providing the $250,000 for erection of the pilot plant.

PROTECT INTERESTS

Government speakers replied by saying interest of the province had been fully protected. If Oil Sands Ltd. defaults its contract, then the government will get possession of property involved.

Elmer E. Roper (CCF-Edmonton) stated he was not opposed to developing the natural resources of the province in the manner the bill proposes, but was opposed to the fact that the agreement was with a private company.

Fit-Lt. A. J. E. Liesemer (CCF-Calgary) said he objected to spending public funds for development of something for a private corporation. Declaring the government was taking the risk under the agreement, Mr. Liesemer said if the experiments to be conducted were unsuccessful, then Oil Sands Ltd. would not take the plant.

"This would make it appear that the government was taking the whole risk."

Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, said the agreements provide that Oil Sands Ltd. shall take over the plant or it would forfeit plant and all. Operations at the plant would continue until success had been attained, the minister added.

Mr. Fallow recalled that at its last session the Legislature had voted $250,000 be made available for construction of a pilot plant in the oil sand area, in order to improve processes for extracting and separating oil from the oil sands.

He said the agreement between the government and Oil Sands Ltd. provided that a committee composed of Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines; L. R. Champion, of the company, and himself was to pass upon all purchases made in connection with the pilot plant.

Mayor Andrew Davidson (Ind-Calgary) asked what was the value of the present plant, equipment and leases at the Oil Sands Ltd. site.

In reply, Mr. Fallow said he did not have this information, but had inspected a financial statement of the company which covered other properties. This statement revealed the company had assets of over $500,000.

"Is the company on a 50-50 basis with the government?" Mr. Davidson asked.

Mr. Fallow said the government was putting up $250,000. "That is under our supervision and direction until the last dollar is paid back," he added. He told members that the company's financial statement had no connection with the agreement contained in the legislation then before the house.

"TECHNICALLY INSOLVENT" J. Percy Page (Ind-Edmonton) said he had discussed the company's financial standing earlier in the session and had said it was "technically if not actually insolvent."

Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., attorney-general, said the agreement provided that the government could give the company the right, but not the exclusive right, to make use of processes evolved at the plant. Results of work accomplished by the pilot plant could be made available to anyone in Alberta, he added.

Mr. Maynard said the government could have set up the pilot plant at a different location, but felt it was more desirable to work in conjunction with Oil Sands Ltd. (Oil Sands Ltd. have been operating at Bitumount).

The attorney-general emphatically denied the government was making a grant to Oil Sands Ltd. or to anyone else.

After some further discussion, the bill was laid over for further consideration.

Body of Sixth Victim in Ship Blast Is Found

VANCOUVER, March 22.—(CP)—Longshoremen late yesterday recovered the body of another fellow worker who lost his life when four explosions blasted apart the 10,000-ton freighter SS Greenhill Park in Vancouver's downtown harbor last March 6.

The body was identified by papers as that of Joseph Anthony Brooks. It was found in the wreckage strewn No. 2 hold and brings to six the number of bodies so far taken out of the ship's hull.

Two other men were reported missing after the explosions wrecked the vessel and blasted out thousands of windows in the downtown shopping and financial district causing damage unofficially estimated at more than $1,250,000.

Junior Chamber Given Account D-Day Assault

The part played by Canadians in the "D-Day" invasion; how a multitude of plans were prepared and executed following the grim business of "dress rehearsals"; and how thickly-sown mines and other obstacles on the Normandy beaches were dealt with, were graphically told to members of Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce by Brig. R. A. Wyman, CBE, DSO, ED, officer in charge of the invasion's "suicide brigade," at the Macdonald hotel Wednesday night.

The speaker said it was "a definite reception party," with many formidable obstacles, which had been arranged for the Allies by the Germans. These obstacles dictated the order in which the invasion forces were to land, for a gap had to be made through them.

SPECIAL EQUIPMENT

Special equipment was invented to land the guns on the shores after research had been carried out. Waterproofing of such equipment was cut from weeks to a matter of hours. The "suicide brigade" had a well-earned name, continued the speaker, who said the engineers: "They were the most gallant fellows in the world."

There were many things to be taken into consideration, and it was the excellent planning that gave to the invasion air superiority.

Brig. Wyman told his listeners of the nervous strain that preceded the crossing of the channel. When the word did come through to "go ahead," even newspaper reporters were locked up. Before that, while awaiting sailing orders, communication with the outside was cut off. "It was a relief to know what was to be one way or another," said the speaker.

HELD ACT OF GOD

Brig. Wyman said that the loss of so many lives meant that anticipated was considered "more an act of God than good management," and although the final objective on D-Day was not reached, a firmly-established stand was made.

"The western Canadian soldier is the best we've got. He's a marvelous fellow," declared the speaker, complimenting them. He termed The Royal Canadian Regiment "superb."

Of our country he said: "So little is known of the advantages we enjoy here, Canada is a wholesome country, with a standard of living that is high. Compared to Sicily, where they still live in Biblical times, we are so far ahead we do not really appreciate it."

"Coming back here and hearing the silly bickering, I think we don't appreciate what we have got. We have something that we should protect and hand on to those who follow us," he declared, adding, that after travelling about the world, he finds that "Canada is still a babe in arms."

Contributing to an enjoyable program were Jack Jones, soloist; Jimmy Grant, soloist, impersonator and dancer; and Dennis Clayton, pianist.

Leonard Aldridge, president, acted as chairman.

Before the Magistrate

Found guilty of breach of civilian regulations by Magistrate H. L. Howe, K.C., Wednesday afternoon, Martin Tyroff, 44-year-old Edmontonian, was ordered to pay a fine of $50 or serve two months in jail. Tyroff failed to go to a tie camp at Niton, as directed, the court was told. He stated that he had worked in the bush for 15 years and wanted a holiday.

Phones Revenue Reveals Decrease

Revenue from the city telephone department for the period Jan. 1 to March 19, 1945, totalled $223,010.89 compared with $226,577.34, a decrease of $3,566.45, according to a statement filed with the city commissioners Thursday by Robert Christie, superintendent of the department.

On March 19, 1945, there were 14,434 residential and 9,759 business telephones in operation compared with 14,208 and 9,886 on the same date last year.

Guilty of Theft: Draws 10 Months

Mrs. Alice McIlush, Edmonton, found guilty in supreme court Wednesday by Mr. Justice H. H. Parlee on a charge of theft of Victory Bonds, valued at $250, the property of Luther H. Leach, Glendon station agent, was sentenced to serve 10 months in Fort Saskatchewan jail.

The bonds were proved to be part of the loot taken from the safe in the CNR depot at Glendon. They had been placed there for safe keeping by Mr. Leach. Later the three bonds were cashed at Edmonton banks.

Mr. Justice Parlee accepted the evidence of Sgt. Hubert H. Radcliffe, RCMP handwriting expert, that the endorsement on the cashed bonds was written by the accused.

THEY SHALL NOT WANT

RED CROSS LODGES Bring Them Together

THE first Red Cross Lodge was constructed twenty-five years ago by the Canadian Red Cross, adjacent to one of our military hospitals, to provide a home away from home where convalescent patients may meet socially with their relatives and friends. It has been found that these frequent, happy visits with their loved ones in an atmosphere of cheer, home-like comfort considerably aids the convalescence and rehabilitation of our wounded servicemen. To provide for the convalescent patients of this war, a Red Cross Lodge will be built wherever needed. New Lodges already under construction are modernly equipped with spacious lounge and games rooms, canteens, snack bars and various other comforts—with Red Cross Hostesses in attendance to see to the comfort of the men.

Some of the Lodges have the added feature of serving as hostels to provide much needed overnight accommodation for next-of-kin visitors, especially women and children.

Every Red Cross Lodge that is constructed for our wounded men is an expression of deep appreciation of all Canadians to those who have bravely fought and sacrificed for freedom. The need for more Red Cross Lodges is great, as more and more of our wounded are returned to Canada for convalescence. To carry on with this vitally important war work, the Red Cross calls upon every loyal Canadian for support. Let your response be immediate and generous. Help your Red Cross to meet the largest mercy task in its history.
